Japanese emergency humanitarian aid reaching destinations throughout the world

Japan Platform (JPF) delivers prompt and effective emergency humanitarian aid to affected people of natural disasters and those who have been forcibly displaced as a result of conflicts all over the world. Since our foundation in 2000, we have implemented over 1,400 humanitarian aid projects totaling 54 billion yen in 47 countries and regions worldwide.

NGOs, the government of Japan, business communities, and intellectuals, such as academia, and the media come together in partnerships, and aid activities are implemented under coordination and consultation that make the most efficient party's characteristics and resources. As an emergency humanitarian aid professional, we share information and provide assistance to our partner member NGOs, which has its own experience and strengths, and together we implement programs in response to the needs of disaster affected people and refugees.

May of 2018

[Taiwan & Humanitarian Assistance to Occupied Palestinian Territory August 2015] Large-scale military clashes reached Gaza in August 2015 as a result of fierce Israeli force against Gaza in July and August of 2014. JPF took action as an emergency response by the end of July 2014 and has since provided aid through our local partner organization in Gaza, as well as providing funding in the form of 1 million dollars to the international non-governmental organization (INGO) Oxfam for the rehabilitation of Gaza's schools and in support of local communities. In addition, Palestinian local partners continue to provide assistance in health, education, and water through the emergency response period to alleviate this humanitarian crisis.

In the fifth year of the humanitarian crisis in Syria, we continue to support the affected people. In Syria, the conflict has reached a critical stage, and humanitarian aid for displaced people in the middle of the war has only been provided for a temporary period. Providing aid for SRPs within Syria, training and creating capacities for humanitarian aid, and delivering aid to Syria as a whole is a challenge, but it is a life-saving mission for those whose lives have been affected by the conflict.

Since the beginning of the Syrian conflict, JPF has been supporting the affected people in Syria and delivering humanitarian aid to the affected areas through our partner organizations. Having experienced various situations with a large number of displaced people, JPF has the possibility to share its experience and to pass on its knowledge.

Each Member NGO will be responsible in implementing their emergency and evacuation plans in response to the situation. If there is a possibility of being affected by the same event, the appropriate disaster prevention systems must be implemented.

Please refer to the following emergency response action plan for the places you wish to visit.

The massive 7.8 magnitude earthquake on April 15, 2015, resulted in 9,000 people killed and 18,000 injured. Nepal is still rebuilding from the disaster. JPF delivers aid to Nepal through its local partner organization, Nepal National Human Rights Commission (NNHRC), and has been implementing emergency response projects for over one year. The emergency aid has been delivered in collaboration with the government of Nepal and other partners.
